

Community and Mosaics

A community contains people that all live in the same area that have something in common, but also are all different in their own way. People in a community work together to support and care for one another. People in a community can rely, and know that whenever they are in a rough time they have people that have their back. Individual people are good but then they come together to become even better. A mosaic is much like a community. A mosaic is something resembling such a picture or decoration in composition, especially in being made up of diverse elements. Like a community a mosaic has individual pieces that are pretty, but then a bunch of pieces are gathered to create a beautiful picture. Without many pieces or people you can't have a mosaic or community.
