

---

The use of our choreography serves to communicate our artistic statement because we all start off on our own separate ways, then coming back together as one and lifting up another person as they might be going through something hard or troubling in there life. We then go again our separate ways to show our individualities by all doing something unique and different. Finally at the end of the segment we carry a girl off as she might be going through something great in her life we always need to lift up our friends.

---

---

---